

This is a digital copy of a book that was preserved for generations on library shelves before it was carefully scanned by Google as part of a project to make the world's books discoverable online.

It has survived long enough for the copyright to expire and the book to enter the public domain. A public domain book is one that was never subject to copyright or whose legal copyright term has expired. Whether a book is in the public domain may vary country to country. Public domain books are our gateways to the past, representing a wealth of history, culture and knowledge that's often difficult to discover.

Marks, notations and other marginalia present in the original volume will appear in this file - a reminder of this book's long journey from the publisher to a library and finally to you.

Usage guidelines

Google is proud to partner with libraries to digitize public domain materials and make them widely accessible. Public domain books belong to the public and we are merely their custodians. Nevertheless, this work is expensive, so in order to keep providing this resource, we have taken steps to prevent abuse by commercial parties, including placing technical restrictions on automated querying.

We also ask that you:

- + Make non-commercial use of the files We designed Google Book Search for use by individuals, and we request that you use these files for personal, non-commercial purposes.
- + Refrain from automated querying Do not send automated queries of any sort to Google's system: If you are conducting research on machine translation, optical character recognition or other areas where access to a large amount of text is helpful, please contact us. We encourage the use of public domain materials for these purposes and may be able to help.
- + Maintain attribution The Google "watermark" you see on each file is essential for informing people about this project and helping them find additional materials through Google Book Search. Please do not remove it.
- + Keep it legal Whatever your use, remember that you are responsible for ensuring that what you are doing is legal. Do not assume that just because we believe a book is in the public domain for users in the United States, that the work is also in the public domain for users in other countries. Whether a book is still in copyright varies from country to country, and we can't offer guidance on whether any specific use of any specific book is allowed. Please do not assume that a book's appearance in Google Book Search means it can be used in any manner anywhere in the world. Copyright infringement liability can be quite severe.

THE GOVERNMENT OF THE STATE LIBRARY.

REGULATIONS FOR THE GOVERNMENT OF THE STATE LIBRARY ADOPTED BY THE LEGISLATURE.

1. The Board of Trustees of the State Library shall have supervision thereof and power to make rules and regulations for the same, and the Governor, the Secretary of the Commonwealth and the Attorney General shall, ex-officio, be said trustees..... They shall meet annually upon the second Monday of December, and at such other times as they may fix for that purpose, and the State Librarian shall act as secretary to the same.

2. The Library rooms shall be open to the public every secular day, except public holidays, between the hours of 9 a. m. and 3 p. m., except during the sessions of the Legislature and of the Supreme Court sitting at Harrisburg, when the Library shall be open as aforesaid between the hours of 9 a. m. and 9 p. m., provided that on Saturdays the Library shall be closed at 12 o'clock noon.

3. The Governor, members of the General Assembly, Justices of the Supreme Court, heads of departments, and officers of the Commonwealth at the seat of government, and such other persons as may be designated by the rules adopted by the Board of Trustees, shall be entitled, under such regulations as the Board of Trustees shall prescribe, to take books from the Library.

RULES FOR THE GOVERNMENT OF THE STATE LIBRARY, ADOPTED BY THE BOARD OF TRUSTEES, JANUARY 22, 1890.

Rule 1.

The State Library is one of reference, and not a circulating library. All persons are permitted to visit the Library and examine and read the books and reviews; but the Librarians shall exercise a proper discrimination as to the delivery of such books as they may judge liable to injury.

Rule 2.

During the time the library is open, the Librarian or his assistants shall be in attendance. They shall preserve order, and exclude, if necessary, any disorderly person. They shall prevent smoking, loud talking or reading, and all noise inappropriate to the quietness of a place of study.

Rule 3.

It shall be the duty of the Librarian to register in a book provided for that purpose the names of all persons entitled under the law and these rules, to take books from the Library, the title of the book and the time it is taken out; and he shall give notice to all persons failing to return the same at the specified time in Rule 6.

Rule 4.

Persons entitled under the law to receive books from the Library, cannot transfer that right or privilege to others, nor shall books taken from the Library be loaned to others.

Rule 5.

No book shall be taken from the Library until its title is written and receipt properly signed by the person receiving the same. Neither the Librarian nor his assistants can sign such receipt nor waive the giving of the same.

Rule 6.

No person shall have from the Library at any one time more than two books (or two volumes), and no book shall be retained from the Library for a longer period than two weeks; but this rule shall not apply to heads of Departments desiring works for their personal consultation and use.

Rule 7.

The following works of reference shall not be removed from the Library, except in cases where the head of a department requires the same for consultation, viz: Directories, encyclopedias, newspapers, magazines, maps, pamphlet volumes, illustrated works of art, rare or costly books, books of limited edition, books or other documents presented to the Library for permanent preservation, reports of the Supreme or other Courts of last resort of the different states and territories (except as hereinafter mentioned), manuscripts, engravings and works of an encyclopaedic character.

Rule 8.

During the session of the Legislature, or the sitting of the Supreme Court in Harrisburg, any law book or book of reference may be taken to any room in the Capitol by any member thereof, and lawyers in attendance on the Supreme Court may be permitted to take such law books as they may wish to the Supreme Court, to be returned within two days, and the persons so receiving the same shall be personally responsible for their safe return.

Rule 9.

Members of the Legislature having in their possession any book, map or other publication belonging to the State Library shall return the same at least five days previous to the final adjournment; and it shall be the duty of the State Librarian to report to the presiding officers of the Senate and House of Representatives, respectively, two days before such final adjournment, the names of the members of each House, respectively, who have failed or neglected to return the same.

Rule 10.

No alcoves shall be left open by the Librarian or his assistants, and no one else shall be permitted to take from or replace upon the shelves, any book, map or other publication.

Rule 11.

Books must be handled with care. Leaves of books must not be turned down, nor any marks whatsoever made on the margin.

(Resolution of Trustees, Nov. 21, 1893.)

The Judges of the Twelfth Judicial District are hereby designated as persons entitled to take books from the State Library, for their personal use and reference, in accordance with regulation three.

ANNUAL REPORT

OF THE

STATE LIBRARIAN.

To His Excellency, Daniel Hartman Hastings, Governor of Pennsylvania:

Sir: I have the honor to present the following report relating to the State Library for the year just closed:

The additions to the Library from various sources are as follows:

By purchase:

	Vols.
Miscellaneous books,	631
Law books,	275
Magazines and reviews,	175
Newspapers (bound volumes),	475
Parliamentary papers and debates,	170

By exchange:

With the United States,	627
With the states and territories,	550
With foreign countries (international),	101

By donation:

Exchange with institutions of learning, etc.,	417
Library of Second Geological Survey (books and pamphlets),	96
State publications required to be preserved in the State Library, including Supreme Court reports,	607
Paper books of Supreme Court reports arranged by direction of the Legislature and bound,	758
Making a total increase in the State Library of 4,882 volumes. The number of volumes estimated as being in the State Library, including duplicates of State documents required to be kept therein, was 117,122, total number December 1, 1895, 122,004 volumes.

At the time of making my last report the Library was in a transition state, removing from the old to the new building, then nearly completed. This was accomplished successfully and expeditiously about the 20th of December last. The Legislature convening on the first day of the year, there was little chance for re-arranging the Library, which I was so extremely anxious to do, and with which the long session of that body interfered. However, this has been accomplished during the year, and the State is to be congratulated in having its Library, with its collection of valuable publications, in an ostensibly fire-proof building. Owing to the fact that greater room was required for the executive offices, that of the Library was curtailed in a measure; and the plan as originally suggested, not fully carried out. Nevertheless it may be said of the State Library of Pennsylvania, that it is better lighted and has more conveniences for study and reference than any similar building in the Union. However, the location of the offices of the Assistant Librarian is not eligible. I would suggest therefore, that the present offices including the desk, be changed into alcoves, and one or two of the alcoves at either wing of the building be transformed into offices. I think this can be done at a trifling expense and I would recommend therefore, that it be carried out as soon as possible.

The General Assembly of 1895, granted an additional appropriation of three thousand dollars for the purchase of books. With the deficiency of the appropriations of the two previous years of over seven thousand dollars, this sum ought to have been increased, and I had hopes of a more munificent assistance in the purchase of such books as are actually needed in this Library of reference.

It is to be regretted that the Legislature in its wisdom, did not see proper to provide for the printing of the dictionary catalogue which is being made. I had hoped before the next session of that body, a volume comprising the entire law and other works closely allied thereto, would have been published, so that those coming to refer to the Library, might readily obtain such as were desired. It is to be hoped that this will not be neglected many years longer. A catalogue, to be available in a reference Library, must be printed; and it was my earnest wish that such a catalogue would be issued by the State, which would be a credit thereto. Apart from this consideration, I may truly observe, that the safety really, of a large Library depends upon an accurate and truthful record of the volumes contained therein. The last catalogue was made in 1873 and reprinted in 1877, and is useless for any reference whatever. Many of the books then in the Library are not to be found, while the whole number was not one-third now comprising the Library of the Commonwealth.

The cataloguing of the miscellaneous Library is slowly progressing, for I may as well observe here, that the entire time of a cataloguer is fully taken up if he makes the proper entry of all the yearly additions to the Library. The trustees will see, therefore, how important a matter it is to have a regular cataloguer for this work, and, not be dependent upon a biennial appropriation.

Upon taking charge of the State Library I found that the paper books of the several districts of the Supreme Court of Pennsylvania, filed therein, under provision of law, were not properly bound. The pamphlets were gathered in volumes without reference to district, year or case. The accumulation of these was such that I called the attention of the Legislature of 1893, to the subject, which made a special appropriation for arranging and indexing the paper books referred to. The work was confided to a gentleman well learned in the law (Mr. B. M. Nead), by the trustees, and he faithfully performed his duties. The volumes were arranged numerically, in convenient size, including the three districts, from 1878 to 1894, inclusive. The volumes of each district are numbered separately for each term with proper title labels. The number of volumes which has been bound and placed upon the shelves of the Library, is 758. They contain about 22,000 paper books and represent over 11,000 cases. As soon as a general index can be made for these, they will be readily accessible to the legal profession.

This Library has always been deficient in the reports and statutes of the English speaking countries, save those of the Dominion of Canada, with which I have secured an exchange. Recently an opportunity was afforded for securing some of these reports. After consulting with the Attorney General, it was deemed advisable to purchase the most valuable of these at once; and, therefore, an order was given for the Australian reports. Those of New South Wales are expected to reach us about the first of the new year, to be followed by those of Victoria nearly a year later. If a special appropriation were made by the Legislature for the securing of all these reports at one and the same time, the annual appropriation would allow the State Librarian to keep up each series.

The act of June 24, 1895, which provides "two hundred copies of all documents or books printed at the expense of the Commonwealth, to be delivered to the State Librarian for exchange and for distribution to such libraries as may be of reciprocal advantage," has already produced a beneficial effect. Applications are made from all quarters for the reports of the various departments, and the number furnished the State Librarian for this purpose does not in reality equal the demand, and yet those are sufficient for all necessary purposes.

While upon this subject, it may be proper for me to refer to the "Act for the establishment of Free Public Libraries, in the several school districts of the Commonwealth, except in cities of the first and second class" The object of this act is a commendable one, as its intencion is to establish and maintain free public libraries in every city, town and school district of the State. Unfortunately there are some defects in the bill, which may probably affect its successful and efficient working. Not having been consulted as to the general features of the bill, on its passage through the Legislature, the State Librarian does not wish to be considered responsible for any imperfections in the bill. It is a well known fact, that in quite a number of towns of the State where libraries have already been established, little difficulty is experienced in collecting money from the citizens for the purpose of purchasing books, but, to pay the expenses of conducting the libraries, including the salaries of the librarians, is the greatest difficulty. Some provision ought to be made in this bill, to meet just such cases. In one of the cities of the Commonwealth an annual fund of several thousand dollars has been devised for the purchase of books alone, and for the successful carrying on of the said library, the trustees are compelled to collect money sufficient to pay the Librarian, and the other expenses of the establishment. Some provision ought therefore, be made in the library law by which funds can be appropriated by the school boards to such libraries without interfering with the corporate authority of the trustees thereof. If the election of trustees is left to the school boards in most cities and towns of the Commonwealth, persons will be selected not on account of their learning and ability, but merely from favoritism, political or personal. This bad feature ought to be guarded against, and an amendment should be enacted by which the school boards upon the recommendation of a certain number of property holders in the district would be compelled to make such a tax levy as would secure the best results in the maintenance of a free public library. The friends of the measure ought to be counselled in this matter, and I would suggest that for the furtherance of the object, the subject of a proper bill for enactment by the next Legislature, be referred to the Attorney General, Superintendent of Public Instruction and the State Librarian. I hope to see the day when in every village, town and city of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, free libraries properly conducted, will be established.

The State Librarian has frequently called the attention of the proper authorities to the fact that the reports of the various eleemosynary and charitable institutions of the Commonwealth are not furnished the State Library for permanent preservation. Fortunately many of these reports which were placed in the hands of the chairman of the committee on general appropriations of the last Legislature, have been passed over to the State Library. Apart however, from this, not five reports have been received during the past two years, and within the past week application has been made for reference to reports of some of these institutions, for a number of years. Not contained in the Library, the applicants were referred to those in charge of the institutions direct, and, it is doubtful if any one of these even, has in possession a full set of its own reports. The State Librarian has written time and again requesting the reports, but the applications have remained unheeded. The only way to secure these appears to be in an enactment requiring that all institutions of the character referred to, to which appropriations are given by the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, shall certify before such appropriations are paid over, that their reports have been filed with the State Librarian.

The Legislature of 1870, owing to some difficulty with the printer of the Legislative Record, did not publish the full proceedings of that body. The manuscript thereof is in existence and can be purchased for a moderate sum. Heretofore, when the matter has been brought to the attention of the State Librarian, his appropriations would not allow him to secure the documents. Although possibly not of much value, yet the State Librarian feels that it ought to be the property of the State of Pennsylvania, whether the State will ever publish it or not; and he therefore brings this to the attention of the Board of Trustees, trusting that they may advise him as to its purchase.

In conclusion, I would beg leave to request that the Board of Trustees hold at least one meeting every three months, and suggest therefore the passage of a resolution directing the calling of a meeting on the second Mondays of February, May and September of each year. The law requires the annual meeting to be held on the second Monday of December.

With the sincerest good wishes and thanks to the Board of Trustees, for their hearty co-operation in whatever suggestions may have been given them by the State Librarian, I beg leave to remain,

Yours with respect,

WILLIAM H. EGLE,
State Librarian.
